

On this site you find examples of the photographic work of Eddy Smid (1942) , a Dutch photographer, living half of the time in his home-country and the other half in Hungary, where he feels very much at home.

During summer, from May until September, he is showing his pictures in his own gallery, the Nagypalli Pince Galéria, in the little village of Nagypall, south of the road Pécs- Budapest at km 178.

Every year he is composing a new exhibition there and so you can see how fascinated he is by Hungary and the Hungarians.

If you ask him why , he will tell you about the beautiful light, the friendliness of the people, the warmth in summer and winter and his love for traditional Hungarian music.

This music he cannot put in a picture, but yet, if you see his photographs, sometimes you can hear both melody and rythm.

He kindly invites you to visit him in Nagypall from the first of May until the end of September.

He always combines his exposition of pictures with beautiful examples of Hungarian (folk)art, made by artists from mainly the southern part of the country. (Baranya- and Tolna- province) and this combination is really a very lucky one.

If you would like to buy one of these photographs, please contact him through his e-mailadress. Thank you!
